

GRAND JURY CONDEMNS LEE CO. JAIL STRUCTURE

BOMB AURORA RAIL WORKERS EARLY TODAY

Roundhouse Workers Uninjured By Ter- rific Blast.

Aurora, Ill., Sept. 22.—A stick of Atlas Powder 20 inches long was exploded in the Burlington railroad round house here at 2:20 o'clock this morning. Windows were blown out and the report was so loud it could be heard for miles yet not one of the 20 men at work was hurt and no equipment was damaged. A second stick of the powder which had not been exploded was found in the round house by George German, a special agent for the Burlington railroad. He ran to the round house immediately as soon as he heard the explosion.

Aurora police on guard outside the railroad shops also ran to the round house when they heard the report and they were with Mr. German when he picked up the powder stick. It was about 1 1/2 inches in diameter and was wrapped in oil paper like a dynamite stick.

Ernest George, leader of the Burlington shopmen on strike here, said that the powder stick had evidently been planted by enemies of the strikers who wished to make them "look bad."

"That stick was never thrown into the shops by any of our men," he said. "They have too much brains. That's the work of somebody that would like to make us look bad."

Burlington Office Robbed.
Hard on the heels of the announcement that no one had been hurt in the explosion in the round house there came a report from Chicago that the Burlington ticket office had been robbed of $3,000 during the night and that an attempted holdup of a ticket office at Congress Park had been foiled.

At Eola Junction, near Aurora, robbers were discovered breaking into two freight trains and were driven off by Special Agent Abbott who fired at them with a sawed off shot gun. When they fled, the robbers left behind two automobiles in which they had come to the railroad yards.

Harry Modaff, superintendent of the Burlington shops, in discussing the round house explosion, said, "I have no accusations to make. I have no idea who it was."

The police are combing the town for suspects but no arrests have yet been made.

Landlord Renting to Foreigners is Given Coat of Tar

Woodriver, Ill., Sept. 22.—J. N. Craine, a building contractor, was abducted from his home at 9:30 last night by four masked men, taken to a lonely school yard about seven miles distant, where a coating of tar was applied by his captors. Craine said that the men asserted the renting of some of his houses to foreigners as the reason for the attack. After the tarring the men abandoned him, he states with the parting injunction: "Mums the word. Get those foreigners out of your houses." He says he has no idea as to the identity of the tarring party.

HERRIN JURY NEARING END OF ITS WORK

County Board Refuses Brundage Request for More Funds.

Marion, Ill., Sept. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Delving into the last of the major stages of the Herrin mine killings last June, the special grand jury investigating the case today questioned additional witnesses, hoping to pick up odds and ends of evidence which they expected to obtain for the completion of their report, which is expected Saturday.

It is planned to have the grand jury recess on Saturday night and hold itself in readiness for any important developments likely to occur, after which it would definitely adjourn, bringing to an end the most important part of the investigation.

Leaves Lesser Offenses.
The special body, it was said, has taken up only the more important phases of the mine disorders, returning indictments for murder and rioting. It intends to leave lesser offenses committed in connection with the riots to the regular grand jury, which convenes next Monday.

Ask County Funds.
Attorney General Brundage of Illinois and State's Attorney Delos Duty appeared before the Williamson county board of supervisors yesterday and asked for a special appropriation for the purpose of paying the cost of the investigation. The board adjourned without taking any action on the request, contending that its regular levy for court costs had been increased this year to care for such cases as the investigation. Mr. Brundage declared that his office already had paid the costs of the inquiry.

UNCONSTITUTIONALITY IS DEFENSE OF SMALL, STERLING AND RUSSEL

Brundage's Civil Suits Against Ex-Treasurers in Progress.

Carrollton, Ill., Sept. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Shades of King Alfred, the Great and the Domesday book were evoked by Former United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman on behalf of Governor Len Small, Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling and State Auditor Russel, here this morning in opening the arguments for the defense in demurrers to the civil suits brought to compel the three former state treasurers to account for interest on state funds, alleged to have been withheld.

Is Abie Defense.
Quoting the laws of the wise King Alfred and the Domes Day book of William, the Conqueror, Senator Sherman declared the relation then and now between the state and the state treasurer is that of debtor and creditor.

As debtor, he declared, the state treasurer is bound only to "take and safely keep" the state money, and that he has no constitutional obligation to account to the state for the manner in which he handles that money. His sole responsibility is that he pay back to the state all the money he has had in his keeping. And if he does loan it out, the senator declared, he is under no further responsibility for an accounting.

"The treasurer's receding comes," the former senator climaxed with a gesture, "when pay day comes."

Only Principal Involved.

The effort of the prosecution, he pointed out, is to show that the state treasurer is bound by the duties of a trustee, and as such accountable for his use of state funds. By the constitution, the common law and the Domes Day book, he said, his relation to that of debtor and creditor and as such he can not be compelled to account for the use of the funds, but only to pay back the principal, without loss.

No time limit was put upon Senator Sherman, or his colleagues for the defense. After Judge Owen Thompson of Jacksonville and W. W. Schroeder follow Senator Sherman, the argument for the prosecution will be opened by Assistant Attorney General Clarence N. Board. Should the judge uphold the demurrers, in whole or in any material part, Mr. Board told the Associated Press, an immediate appeal (Continued on Page 2)

CONGRESS QUILTS SINE DIE WITH NOTABLE RECORD

Wide Range of Legis- lation Went Through 67th Congress.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Sept. 22.—Adjournment of congress at two o'clock today was arranged definitely when the senate, soon after reconvening, adopted the house resolution providing for the sine die ending of the session.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Sept. 22.—One of the last acts of the two houses was passage of the deficiency bill carrying a total of $2,454,210, including $200,000 for relief of Americans in Smyrna.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Almost ten months of legislative action ending today with adjournment sine die of the second session of the 67th Congress covered a wide range, affecting the nation's international relations as well as its economic, industrial and home life.

Passage of the permanent tariff revision and soldiers' bonus bill probably were the chief features of the session, which began Dec. 5 last and which was the first regular session of Congress since inauguration of the Harding administration, the first session being specially called in the spring of 1921. The Washington conference on limitation of armament and Far Eastern questions, and the railroad and coal strike, however, gave Congress new and unexpected problems to deal with. The naval limitation and a half dozen other conference treaties were ratified by the Senate last March after week of debate delaying other legislation and about as many weeks were required for conferences and legislation growing out of the two strikes—the Federal Coal Commission and coal regulation and distribution bills.

Scores of other new laws were made and a dozen regular and several special appropriation bills, carrying upward of $2,250,000,000, passed, the first under the new budget system and the reorganized congressional appropriation committees.

The session was marked by three personal addresses by President Harding at joint sessions, one, opening the session, another one on merchant marine legislation and a third on the industrial situation.

Other special features of the session included the seating of Senator Newberry, Republican, Michigan, by the Senate January 12, the recent attempt by Rep. Keller, Republican, Minnesota, to impeach Attorney General Daugherty, confirmation by the (Continued on Page Two)

WAIT DECISION OF WILKERSON: MORE VIOLENCE

Expected Moderation in Injunction Failed to Appear.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—With the railroad world awaiting for the decision he has promised by 11 a. m. tomorrow, Judge James H. Wilkerson, in the preparation of his ruling on the government's strike injunction, was without any suggestions today from Attorney General Daugherty for modification of the restraining order issued on Sept. 1.

The only features of the attorney general's bill interpreted as in any way modifying the order now in effect, lay in clauses clarifying the phraseology of original passages and in the following provision:

"Nothing contained herein shall be construed to prohibit the use of funds or moneys of any said labor organizations for any lawful purpose and nothing contained in this order shall be construed to prohibit the exercise of any of the acts heretofore enjoined, or not calculated to maintain or prolong a conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce or the transportation of the mails."

Daugherty Explains
Mr. Daugherty, at the close of the hearing, personally explained the government's position.

"This order," he said, "speaks the last word for the government and for society and civilization for peace and fairness, for liberty and protection, with firmness, and if necessary with force."

Declaring it the duty of the government to compel the railroads to furnish transportation, he asserted also that it is the obligation of the government to step in and prevent interference with transportation.

Until he makes his ruling, the restraining order issued on Sept. 1 and extended for a second ten day period, remains in effect, Judge Wilkerson announced.

Nineteen Roads at Peace

Meanwhile nineteen railways and their subsidiaries had made peace with their striking shopmen on the basis of the Baltimore terms, according to an official announcement by John Scott, secretary of the shopcrafts organization.

DIXON HIGH SCHOOL TEAM PROMISES TO HAVE GOOD SEASON

Tomorrow's Opener Will Be One of Hard Games of Season.

The Dixon High school will open its football season tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, in one of the hardest games of the season when the DeKalb High school eleven will oppose the purple and white at the north side athletic field. Football fans will see three new faces in action when the locals take the field. Morrison, a youth from Lincoln, Neb., who is light on his feet, will be called on to do most of the kicking and some of the passing. He comes to Dixon with the reputation of all state end.

Conrad, another new man with an all-state record from Devils Lake, N. D., is rather an elusive chap and will aid Morrison with the passing and kicking. He will make a good running team mate to Jones who is faster and a little heavier than last year.

Holman, another new man from Morris, Ill., is a little light but a hard and willing worker. Mahon has been doing real good work in filling in for Captain Waggoner's shoes and a great lead can be looked for from him.

Captain Feler has proven himself to be a real leader and can run, pass and kick.

TURKS BLOCKED BRITISH FLEET FROM STRAITS?

Vatican is Informed That Constantinople Situation is Grave.

BULLETIN.
Rome, Sept. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The apostolic delegation at Constantinople telegraphed the Vatican today that the situation there was very grave.

BULLETIN.
Constantinople, Sept. 22.—(12:45 p. m., By the Associated Press.)—Turkish nationalist forces have seized the town of Ezine, on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles and are threatening Kum Kaleh, and important key position to the southern side of the straits. The Kemalists were nowhere opposed.

Howls British Fleet?
The nationalist move, in the opinion of the naval experts here, will enable the Turks to prevent free ingress to the Dardanelles to the British Atlantic Fleet units which are on the way from Malta.

The important positions involved were, up to today, occupied by the French and the Italians, and from them the heavy Turkish batteries can command the entrance to the straits.

TRY TO AVERT WAR.

Paris, Sept. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The French cabinet today decided that in view of the refusal of the British to withdraw their forces from Chanak on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, the efforts of the French government should be directed toward preventing war between Turkey and Great Britain. To this end it was agreed immediately to send Franklin Bouillon to Smyrna.

HARRY POULIN BACK ON STAND IN SOUTH BEND

Prof. Tiernan Enraged By Charge Made Against Him.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
South Bend, Ind., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Mae Poulin, wife of Harry Poulin, who is charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan with the paternity of her ten months old child, is expected to resume the stand when hearings in the case are resumed today. Mrs. Poulin, testifying in behalf of her husband, was undergoing cross examination by Prosecutor Floyd Jellison, when court was adjourned yesterday.

Taking the stand immediately after the state closed its case, Mrs. Poulin, disputed Mrs. Tiernan's testimony regarding the meetings between the latter and Mr. Poulin. She swore that with one exception Mr. Poulin had been in her (Mrs. Poulin's) company. On that occasion, the witness said, Mr. Poulin was ill and had remained at home, while she (Mrs. Poulin) went to church. The witness added that contrary to Mrs. Tiernan's testimony, the latter had told her there had been no break in the marital relations between Professor Tiernan and herself.

Resents Defense Suggestion.
When Professor Tiernan was on the stand, defense counsel asked him if he was not the father of an illegitimate child born to a woman in Illinois. Professor Tiernan jumped from the chair and shouted at the attorney: "It's a lie! It's a lie! produce the woman or the child."

At the same time Mrs. Tiernan made a rush for the attorney and the court room was immediately thrown into an uproar. It was several minutes before the judge was able to restore order.

Mrs. Tiernan was recalled to the stand yesterday for a brief cross examination and the testimony of two doctors also was taken. One of the doctors told of attending Mrs. Tiernan when the child was born and the other gave expert testimony.

O'GOREK NAMED IN INDICTMENTS JUST RETURNED

Grand Jury Makes Final Report—Four Indictments.

The grand jury for the September term of the circuit court completed its investigations yesterday and at 5:30 last evening returned their final report to Judge Harry Edwards. The report contained four more indictments, making a total of nine to be returned at this term.

Vincent J. O'Gorek of this city was indicted on six counts, three charging receiving, concealing and possession of stolen property. Three others charged the larceny of automobiles. Five misdemeanor counts were also returned charging O'Gorek with changing and altering automobile engine numbers. Judge Edwards fixed the amount of bonds in the criminal procedure at $3,000 and for the misdemeanor charges at $500, totalling $3,500.

Mike Borovich of this city was indicted on a charge of wife abandonment.

Sylvan Broussard, colored, was indicted for the murder of Morris Reeder, also colored. Morris was shot and killed in an Illinois Central bunk car north of the village of Eldena recently and Broussard escaped.

James Harrison was indicted on a charge of larceny of an automobile. Harrison was captured early in the summer at Maywood with George Crawford's Ford sedan in his possession. The car was stolen from the south side of the court house. Harrison and Robert England later escaped from the county jail by sawing their way out.

Call Jail Inspectors.
One of the important acts of the grand jury was the report returned by them concerning their findings at the county jail. While they commended the efforts of Sheriff Frank Schoenholtz in the care and feeding of the prisoners, the recommendation returned by them as to the condition of the jail for the keeping of prisoners established a new precedent in grand jury reports for this county.

The body in their report stated that while on a visit to the county jail they found it to be very insecure as a place of confinement of prisoners. The insecurity having been demonstrated repeatedly of recent date by prisoners escaping through the aid of back saws, which it appears could have easily been passed through the windows which in their opinion are inadequately protected.

They further recommended that the board of supervisors make an investigation covering the points mentioned and remedy the same as their best judgment dictates.

The jail has been condemned in reports returned by former grand juries but never in such a manner as by the body which completed its work yesterday. The board of supervisors at their meeting last week inspected the jail property, but made no report as to its not being a secure place for the keeping of prisoners.

Bonds Are Furnished.
John A. Logan of Amboy, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, appeared in court this morning and furnished bonds in the sum of $1,000. Mrs. Gertrude Myers, residing near the cement plant, indicted on a like charge, appeared before Judge Edwards this morning and Constantin Gredinar signed her bond for $1,000.

Jackson Buries Mine Victims; Hunt 47th Man

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Jackson, Calif., Sept. 22.—Jackson closed its business houses and its schools today to pay final tribute to forty-six Argonaut victims whose bodies will be buried in a rock sepulchre hewn and blasted in the heart of the Mother Lode gold country.

Searching crews renewed today their efforts to find the body of William Fessel, the forty-seventh entombed miner. Where Fessel went after writing a sorry message on the walls of the men's tomb is a mystery that puzzles mining experts. The message said: "3:00, gas getting bad Fessel." Officials assure that he sought other parts of the Argonaut mine to escape the approaching gas.

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Wheat Jumps and Corn Hits High Mark for Season

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Wheat went up with a rush today as soon as the wheat market opened. Grave developments at the Dardanelles were reported, and dispatches were at hand saying Great Britain's demand for grain from the United States would be very large. Besides, Liverpool quotations were up and prices at Winnipeg showed a big jump. After buying of future deliveries here was done for houses with eastern and foreign connections. Initial prices ranged from 1 to 2 1/2 higher, with Dec. 1.07 1/2 to 1.08 1/2, and May 1.11 1/2 to 1.12 1/2, were followed by further gains and then something of a reaction.

Subsequently, all deliveries of wheat ascended to the highest price level since early in August. On the bulge, however, profit taking sales enlarged, and the market reacted somewhat. The close was unsettled 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 net higher, with Dec. 1.08 to 1.09 1/2 and May 1.12 1/2 to 1.13 1/2.

Corn and oats rose with wheat. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 higher, Dec. 59 1/2 to 60 1/2, the corn market scored additional upturns.

May corn reached a new high price record for the season, but profit taking forced a setback later. The close was unsettled 1/4 to 1/2 higher, with Dec. 59 1/2 to 60 1/2.

Oats started 1/4 to 1/2 higher, Dec. 37 1/2 to 38 1/2, and later hardened a little more.

Higher quotations on hogs helped to give a lift to provisions.

AIN'T NATURE GRAND—

By John Dickinson Sherman.
Old Mother Nature has her genial moods. At times she radiates good cheer, health, strength, sanity—with occasionally a bit of humor thrown in. But in general she is far from being the loving old party sung by the poets. Some, who think they know her well, insist she is not only capricious but malicious. Others hold her neutral, with immutable laws that must be obeyed. The wind bloweth where it listeth, regardless of the man-made village in its path. The bolt strikes in its appointed place. Fire burns. Waters drown.

She smiles and beams, and beams and smiles.
Dame Nature does, with springtime wiles.
And then she gets her wires plumb crossed and goes and flirts with old Jack Frost.

Although she knows the brute will nip the flowers and fruit,
And then she sends a flood
Or thunderbolt—no dud,
Mixed in with forest fire
Or nose-dive of a flier;
Maybe she next does knout
The farmer with a drought,
Or blows a village down
Or cloudbursts on a town!

So Nature empties o'er the land
The box of tricks she keeps on hand,
Practical jokes to beat the band,
Mixed in with jokes of milder brand;
Terrorist, comedian bland—
Ain't Nature grand!

RECEPTION AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH FOR NEW PASTOR—

Last evening a reception was held at the Christian church to welcome Rev. Ben H. Cleaver, the new pastor, and his family to Dixon.

The church was filled with representative Dixon citizens, who enjoyed the pleasant evening and the program of music and readings, and the remarks by members of the Ministerial Association to welcome Rev. Cleaver in the work here.

The church was beautifully decorated with asters and ferns, by the members of the C. C. Circle.

Misses Leora and Edna Sweltzer gave a piano duet, opening the program, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Derr gave a piano and trombone duet, followed by a reading by Mrs. Carl Straw. Miss Ruth Dysart then gave two vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ahrens, the program being concluded with an instrumental number by Messrs. Milton Missman and Al Derr, trombone and cornet, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Derr.

Rev. W. L. Walter, president of the Ministerial Association in Dixon, made a short and interesting speech in which he gave Rev. Cleaver a hearty welcome to his pastorate here, and said that he knew Rev. Cleaver and his wife and daughter would like to live in Dixon as it was a good place to live in and that he knew Rev.

Cleaver would succeed in his work here.

Rev. Cleaver responded to Rev. Walter's address in like manner and said that he knew he and his family would like Dixon and its people and enjoy their work here.

After the program tempting refreshments were served in the parlors in the church basement and a happy social hour was the culmination of the enjoyable evening.

SUNSHINE CLASS WAS ENTERTAINED—

The Sunshine class of St. Paul's Lutheran church was entertained at Mrs. Jennie Lowry's, 901 Fourth St., Thursday evening, Sept. 21.

It was a lovely evening, and there was a good attendance, thirty-two being present, everyone having a splendid time.

The meeting was opened by the singing of the class song, "Scatter Sunshine," and many things of importance were brought up at this time in regard to the duties of the Sunshine class.

A social hour was spent and at 10 o'clock a delicious luncheon was served. The decorations were garden flowers and ferns.

The hostesses were Mrs. Lavenia Swank, Mrs. Viola Fry and Mrs. Alice Wirth.

Rev. L. W. Walter of St. Paul's Lutheran church gave a short speech which was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting of the Sunshine class will be held in October at St. Paul's Lutheran church with a scramble supper.

MRS. WALTER BRAUER OF DIXON WAS HONORED—

The Wednesday evening Sterling Gazette printed the following item: "Mrs. Paul Sonneman entertained twelve friends very pleasantly at her home on West Sixth street, Tuesday afternoon for cards. The party honored, Mrs. Walter Brauer of Dixon, her guest of the day, and Mrs. Harry Ford, who is departing from the city soon to reside in California.

"Five hundred was enjoyed during the afternoon with Mrs. Jack Matneszewich and Mrs. Charles Straught taking first and second prizes and Mrs. Harry Ford the consolation prize. A tempting luncheon was served by Mrs. Sonneman."

SECOND YEAR FOR MISS MORRIS, FIRST FOR MISS SMITH—

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Morris, Miss Jennie Laing and Miss Ruth Morris and Miss Esther Smith, drove to Rockford Tuesday. Miss Morris enters upon her second year at Rockford College and Miss Smith enters for her first year.

Tuesday was a bad day for traveling, cold and rainy. The party driving to Rockford report that there was much more rain in Rockford than in Dixon.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON HONORED MISS WINGERT—

Miss Calla Greig was hostess at a charming bridge-luncheon given Wednesday at the Blue Bird Inn at Assembly Park for Miss Marjorie Wingert, whose engagement to John E. Earle has been announced.

There were fourteen guests present to enjoy the happy occasion.

Artistically arranged flowers and ferns were the decorations. Miss Lucile Mason won the first prize at bridge and Mrs. L. A. Greig was awarded the consolation trophy.

WERE ENTERTAINED AT THE JOHN SHEAFFER HOME—

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dalaska, from Woonsocket, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haberer and son, Russel, from Sterling, and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hummel of Palmyra, were entertained Sunday at the John Sheaffer home. Mr. and Mrs. Will Dalaska have been visiting at the Chris Hummel home for a week, and left yesterday on their return journey to Woonsocket, S. D. They will stop to visit a few days at the Barney Stoltz home in Lisbon, Ia.

AMERICAN LEGION TO GIVE BAZAAR—

The members of the American Legion will give a bazaar in K. C. hall to run for seven nights, starting Saturday evening, Sept. 23, and to continue until the 30th, for the benefit of the football team. The Tootsweeters will furnish the music. There is no doubt of the success of the bazaar and the attendance should be large every night. Boost for the Legion and the team.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED—

You do not introduce two people to each other unless you are quite certain this will be agreeable to both. You never interrupt a conversation to introduce a newcomer.

You do not make haphazard or careless introductions, and you always pronounce the names of both persons distinctly. To slur over names is to create a strained and uncomfortable atmosphere.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE—

Our fashionable jewelers have made something very beautiful out of the wedding ring of which was once only a sign of bondage.

But it has not been changed in all parts of the world. The iron band, which is so heavy that the woman can scarcely lift her hand, is still presented to the bride in Madagascar.

TO VISIT IN GARISH ISLAND, MAINE—

Mrs. D. G. Harvey and small daughter, Jane Grey, have gone to Garish Island, Me., to visit Mrs. Bainbridge and Miss Harvey, aunts of Douglas Harvey. Mr. Harvey will join his wife and daughter in a visit later.

COMMITTEE FOR COMMUNITY NURSES ASSOCIATION TO MEET—

There will be a committee meeting at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the directors' room at the City National Bank, of the Red Cross Community Nurse's Association.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—By overcoming a five-run lead and defeating the Detroit Tigers yesterday, 9-8, while the Browns were winning from Washington, 7-6, the Yankees today maintained their lead of three and a half games over the St. Louis club. It was the Browns' first victory in their last four games.

The Yankees have seven more games to play, while the Browns have six on their schedule. Thus if the Huguenots win four of their contests and the Browns win all of their games, the New York club will win the pennant by one full game.

The Cubs and Phillies and Cincinnati and the Boston Nationals split doubleheaders and Brooklyn won from St. Louis in other National League contests.

The Giants lost ground in their pennant fight when they dropped a second game to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-1, and are now only three and one-half games to the good. To make the pennant a mathematical certainty the Giants must win seven of their remaining eleven games. However, the Pirates, with eight games on their schedule, to nose out the leaders must finish the season without a defeat, while the Giants win only five of their games.

In the American League the Athletics defeated Chicago Chicago 6-1, and Boston took a swatfest from Cleveland, 15-5, in the other games.

The Yanks open their final series at Cleveland today, while the Browns face the Athletics, Washington at Chicago and Boston at Detroit are other games in the American League today.

Doubleheaders will be played between Cincinnati and Boston and Chicago and Philadelphia, while the Pirates continue their series with the Klants at the Polo grounds and St. Louis meets Brooklyn at Ebbets Field in National League contests today.

Eddie Collins' hitting in consecutive games was broken by Fred Helmach of the Athletics when he stopped the White Sox second baseman after having hit safely in nineteen games.

Mike Menosky, the hustling outfielder of the Red Sox, bagged four hits for a perfect day at bat and Chaplin the catcher, scored four runs in the one sided victory over the Indians. Each player on the Red Sox team made one or more hits, except Mitchell, who failed to connect in five times at bat.

Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians sent twenty-one men, including himself into the final game against Boston, but could not overcome the lead the slugging Red Sox had piled up.

Bob Meusel of the Yankees is not on the trail of his brother "Irish" of the Giants for home run honors in the Meusel family. Bob bagged another four bagger, running his string to sixteen which ties his brother.

LEST WE FORGET

Friday, Oct. 27, 1922, has been designated Navy day on suggestion of the Navy League of the United States and with approval of the navy department.

The navy rendered vital service to the nation and to humanity during the World War. No great fleet action was fought to give spectacular emphasis to its vital contribution to the victory. But the convoy, the anti-submarine patrol, the mine barrage, were essential factors in the winning of the war and the saving of civilization. So it has been in every crisis of our history—the navy has not failed. In the Revolution, the War of 1812, Civil War, the Spanish-American war, victory without the navy would have been virtually impossible. Today our peace and prosperity are safeguarded by the navy. It's an agent of stability in a troubled world. It carries no threat, but it lends authority to America's voice, speaking for altruism, justice and law.

On Navy day we would celebrate have consecration to duty of the personnel of the present navy, the glorious services rendered to the nation by the navy of the past. We would emphasize its unity with every interest and activity of the national life.
It is good for the people to stop a moment and consider what has caused the nation's prosperity and greatness.
The navy has played no small part in the progress of America to its present state and influence.

Those who proposed the celebration of Navy day, who urge upon you what they believe to be an opportunity of patriotic service, are advocates of peace. They believe in and support the policy of reduction of armaments by agreement, but reject as absurd the faulty of disarmament by example. Living in a world of reality, they would foster the institution of their security while looking forward to the realization of the ideal not yet attained when the only security needed by mankind shall rest in the hearts and minds of men and nations.

MINSTREL SHOWS

About this time of year, long ago, the old home time was electrified by billboards announcing that a minstrel show would open the winter season at the opera house.

This was the custom in nearly every town. It was a mystery that has never been solved, how there were enough minstrel shows to go around.
Among the cherished thrills of memory, one of the greatest was the moment when the audience sat in darkness, the footlights flashed on for the first act, and behind the curtain rose a plantation melody sung by the entire company.

Do you remember when your boy-hood ambition was to be the drum-major of a minstrel parade, or to rattle the bones as an end man and crack the joke about the mule that kicked mother-in-law in the jaw?

Second choice was to be the interpreter, whose delicious existence reached its climax with "Gentlemen, be seated."

It was proper for burnt cork artists to "open" the opera house, for the minstrel show is the only form of theatricals that can be claimed as 100 per cent American.

The immortal Billy Birch—of Birch, Wambold & Backus Minstrels —said the first minstrel act was in the Federal Street theater in Boston, 1799, when a comedian named Young "blacked up" and sang "The Gay Negro Boy."

The first real minstrel show was Dan Emmett's Virginia Minstrels, which took the road in 1842.

Oldtimers will remember "Daddy"

Rice, Primrose and West, George Christy, Gus Howard, The Great Eugene and other famous burnt-cork artists who made the minstrel show a great American institution.

The minstrel show was a training school from which graduated hundreds of the greatest American actors.
It seems to be a vanishing institution, not that its popularity has waned, but because a burnt-cork genius isn't permitted to work long as a minstrel end man. Vaudeville and big musical shows grab him. A typical case is Al Jolson—one of the best minstrels since Press Eldridge—who rose to fame as an end-man.

They're taking away the minstrel show, but they can't take away memory. Gents whose hair is thinning out on top or getting white can feel that they have not lived in vain, since they basked in the golden age of Lew Dockstader, Al G. Field, John W.
Vogel, Neil O'Brien, Charlie Gano,
"Hi" Henry and "Honey Boy" Evans.

"LADIES OF THE INVISIBLE EYE"

Fort Worth, Tex., is getting the worst kind of publicity through its flogging parties. A few days ago a party of men flogged a clergyman in the vicinity of Fort Worth, because, as they held, he was not American.

This week a "committee of women"
said to be "Ladies of the Invisible Eye," whipped a woman black and blue into serious illness.

Is there anything American to groups of citizens taking the law into their own hands? We had an idea that it was strictly an fundamentally American to allow every citizen the constitutional right to trial by court or jury. We had an idea that American government and laws are based on the principles of justice and tolerance.

There is something decidedly pharisaical, uncharitable, un-American to the tyranny which self-appointed censors, judges and executioners exercise. Sane fellow-citizens unable to follow their delusions, can only feel sorry for them, and trust that they will get a broader and fairer view with greater experience and wisdom.

TIN SOLDIER IN THE SCRAP-HEAP

This is interesting news which Vice Consul Schrenk writes from Berlin to Secretary of Commerce Hoover.
"Militarism has disappeared from the German top industry," he says. "The army corps of metal soldiers formerly manufactured in the Nuremberg factories have been suspended, and the changes in the top trade since the close of the war constitute a miniature revolution."

Offhand, this does not look to be big news. But its importance is realized by the recollection that militarism was popularized in German by the tin soldier. The babe just able to walk learned militarism before learning its prayers, and it liked the tin soldier as much as it did father and mother.
The child learned militarism in the home, and it was the same to him as home.

The German boy and girl, and the boys and girls of other nations can count on more and greater happiness with the Nuremberg toy factory turning out other playthings than army corps. The children will think of the arts of peace.

PUNISHMENT FOR VIOLENCE

One of the conditions for the settlement of the railroad strike for a large group of roads as approved by the shop craft leaders, is that in taking the men back to work the railroads shall not take back "such men as have been proved guilty of acts of violence which, in the opinion of a commission hereinafter provided for, shall be sufficient cause for dismissal from service."

This is a proper provision, for the best interest of organized labor itself.
Strikes in general are viewed as legitimate acts of resistance on the part of employees—as long as they are conducted peacefully. They are a legalized weapon which, however wasteful, still seems unavoidable as an adjunct to free collective bargaining.

A resort to violence is something quite different. It means mob law or individual crime, intolerable to society as a whole and deadly to the cause of organized labor. Every time labor organizations uphold the punishment of men committing crimes in their name, they promote the welfare of labor.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well.

USE OF THE X-RAY

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

When we stop to count the many uses of the X-Ray, it is hard to realize just what we did before it was known. And yet this is not so very long ago.

Time was when a physician, in setting a broken bone, had to "feel" way around the broken limb until found the fracture. This caused great pain.
Now the doctor can "see" what he is doing, thus insuring absolute accuracy in the setting process. The risk of a deformed limb is reduced thus to a minimum.

Again, by means of the X-ray, the process of digestion can be followed from the time the food is swallowed until it reaches the intestines. Sometimes it reveals conditions in the stomach which cause dyspepsia, not only making its cure possible, but also permitting prevention of more serious illness that might follow.

Until the X-ray came into use such diseases as ulceration and cancers sometimes existed unknown to patient or physician until it became too late to cure them. Now the doctor can locate an ulcer or cancer in the stomach, however small, and it can be removed.

Even the smallest contractions of the heart can be studied under the X-ray. The pulse has been found to be very inaccurate as an indication of the heart-beat. It may register only 60 beats a minute, while the heart may be working itself out beating as often as 150 times every 60 seconds.

Another important use of the X-ray is determining the exact location of "foreign bodies." Frequently children swallow such things as tin whisties, buttons, safety pins and the like.
They probably caught at the time and then the incident is quite forgotten.
Later, however, more serious symptoms may develop, and the X-ray finds their cause in esophagus or gutlet and it can then be removed.

to this question: Who gets the pro-

STOCKS

Bull markets usually, but not always,

Buy when the market's low, sell when it's high, is the big investor's

OF THE TWINS

Out flew Nancy and Nick like beans from a bean shooter.

Away whizzed the enchanted automobile with Nancy and Nick inside.
You'd never guess that it was different from any other nice, new, shiny car, but it was different—oh, awfully different. For it wasn't a really truly automobile at all. It was Flap-Doodle, the mischievous fairy, who had changed himself into an automobile in order to get rid of the Twins.

He didn't want 'em round. And he didn't want 'em nebbin', as he called it. He knew they were hunting for the Fairy Queen's wand he had stolen, and that's why he wanted to get them away as far as he could.

"Oh," cried Nick, "this is fun!"
"Oh, I could just ride on forever and forever and never stop once," declared Nancy happily.

Suddenly the automobile gave a jerk and a jump and turned over like a mud turtle on its back.
Out flew Nancy and out flew Nick like beans from a bean shooter.

A THOUGHT
FOR TODAY

Thy all we come, in the unity of the faith, and the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man.—Ephesians 4:13.

O for a man to arise in me
That the man I am may cease to be!

THE GARAGE MAN

By Berton Braley

OH, motorists, I bid you all observe this individual,
Who never has a bit of time for play;
To judge by bills he tenders you for service that he renders you There's forty hours in every working day!
In winter-time or clover-time he's always telling overtime (At any rate it reads so on the bills),
And yet he bears with bravery this unrelenting slavery
And prospers while he goes the pace that kills.

YOUR motor runs unsteadily? He looks it over readily,
Then shakes his head and says, with manner bleak,
"We'll have to take the car apart, your gears are running far apart.
Your crankshaft's bent—the job will take a week!"
Complaining very fretfully, you leave the car regretfully,
And when you're gone he takes your ailing churn
And runs it for chug or two, puts in a new spark-plug or two
And—soaks your sixty bucks when you return!

BLACK grease is on his fingers there. "I don't see how it lingers there
The way he wipes it off upon your paint.
And on your seats luxurious, but though it's very curious,
His hands retain their black and grimy taint;
We curse his vices burglarious, we knock his notions various,
We say he's only out to gouge and rob.
But when the car runs jumpy and jerkily and grumpy,
Oh, gosh we're glad to have him on the job!"

LEARN A WORD
EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is—BOSPORUS.

It's pronounced—Bos-po-rus, with accent on the first syllable.

It means—a strait or narrow sea between two seas or between a sea and a lake. Generally it is used in reference to the Strait of Constantinople, called "Bosphorus" by the Turks, connecting the Black and Marmora Seas, but has not necessary this sole significance.

It comes from — Latin "Bosporus," with the same meaning as in English.

It's used like this—"The world's eyes today are fixed on the Bosphorus, as the principal point of international danger."

(A variation of the spelling is "Bos-phorus.")

A Pittsburgh, Kas., wire says the autumn popped corn in a field. It omits about cows thinking it was snow and freezing to death.

A Splendid Story by a Great Writer

No Defense

By Sir Gilbert Parker

Seldom do you get an opportunity to read a story by Gilbert Parker in serial form. As a rule they appear as novels, the minimum price of which is $2.00. Only recently has the great Canadian author consented to their publication otherwise. We have taken advantage of the opportunity and secured for our readers "No Defense," one of his most popular tales. It is a real Parker romance with the high lights and deep shades, swiftly moving plot, unexpected and unusual developments, the warm human love and absorbing interplay of soul upon soul, which distinguish his writings above all others.

Dinner and then Coffee at the Congress

Food of the best, skillfully prepared into tempting, delicious dishes served amidst the most pleasing surroundings—that's the Congress. Everyone knows of the Congress in Chicago. Everyone knows that to dine there is to dine well, but that no dinner is quite complete without a cup of that delicious excellent coffee.

Thousands of guests have gone to their homes and raved about that coffee—the coffee that made a perfect finish to a perfect dinner.

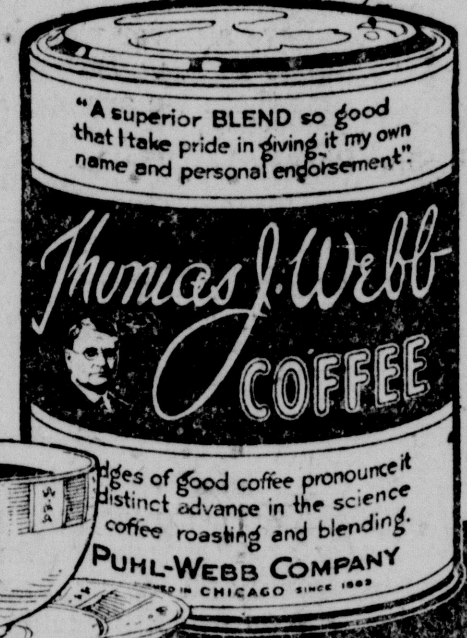

And it was Thomas J. Webb Coffee, of course.

You may have this same good coffee in your home—just get it from your grocer. You pay no more for it than for ordinary coffee. In fact, it is an economical coffee, for you get more cups to the pound. Try it!

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO.

LARGEST RETAIL GROCERY HOUSE IN THE WORLD

119 GALENA AVENUE DIXON, ILL.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The reformed crackman, MICHAEL LANYARD, known to the police as the LONE WOLF, is attempting to recover the stolen jewels of EVE DE MONTALAIS, the woman he loves. Lanyard, who met Eve in southern France, where he rescued her from robbery at the hands of the brutal Parisian Anarchists. DUPONT, believes that the jewels were stolen by a motoring party consisting of the American, WHITTAKER MONK; his secretary, PHINUIT; the latter's brother, JULES, and the COUNTESS DE LORNE.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XV

The Vampire and the Jewels

LANYARD left Athens at her apartment and immediately followed her directions to the house of Liane.

It stood four-square and massive on a corner between the avenues de Friedland and des Champs-Elysees, a solid stone pile of a town-house in the most modern mode.

Heavy gates of wrought bronze guarded the front doors. The single side or service-door was similarly protected by more simply. And stout grilles of bronze barred every window on the level of the street.

Tomorrow night would be too late. Tonight, if there were any warrant for his suspicions, the jewels of Eve de Montalais lay in the dwelling of Liane Delorme; or if they were not there, the secret of their hiding was.

But tomorrow Liane would be on the wing; or Lanyard had been sorely mistaken in seeing in her as badly frightened a woman as he had over known, when she had learned of the assassination of de Lorne.

He must adventure the consequences.

Poised to leave his shelter with his point of attack selected, he checked and fell back into the shadow. Something was happening in the house across the way.

A man had opened the service-door and paused behind the bronze gate.

Following a little wait, it swung slowly out, perhaps eighteen inches, the man advancing with it and again halting to peer up and down the street. Then quickly, as if alarmed, he withdrew.

Listening intently, Lanyard heard no click of latch, such as should have been audible in that dead hour of hush. Evidently the fellow had neglected to make fast the gate. What was he up to? Why this furtive appearance, why the retreat so abruptly executed?

By way of answer came the soft drone of a high-powered motor. Before the corner house it stopped. A lackey alighted with an umbrella but Liane Delorme would not wait for him. The car had not stopped when she threw the door open; on the instant when its wheels ceased to turn she jumped down and ran into the house.

Now if only it were true that the man at the service-door had failed to close it securely!

It proved so. The gate gave readily to Lanyard's pull. The knob of the small door turned silently. He stepped across the threshold, and shut himself into an unlighted hall. To one side a broad flight of stairs ascended; Lanyard went up with the activity of a cat, making no more noise.

The second floor proved to be devoted mainly to a drawing room, a lounge, and a library, all furnished in a weird, inchoate sort of magnificence, with money rather than taste, if one might judge fairly by the fitful and guarded beam of the torch.

Lights were burning on the floor above, and a rumor of feminine voices drifted down, interrupted by an occasional sibilant rustle of silk, or a brief patter of high-heeled feet; noises which bore out the conjecture that madame's maid was undressing and putting her to bed.

A change in the tenor of the talk between mistress and maid was conveyed by a sudden lift of half an octave in the latter's voice, sounding a sharp note of protest, to be answered by Liane in accent of ever-bearing anger.

One simply could not rest without knowing what that meant; Lanyard mounted the second flight of stairs as swiftly, surely, and soundlessly as he had the first. Just below a landing he paused, crouching low, his head lifted just enough to permit him to see a section of glowing, rose-pink wall—it would be rose-pink!

He could see nothing more; and Liane had already reduced the maid to responses feebly submissive.

"And why should you not go with me to that America if I wish it?" Lanyard heard her say. "Is it likely I would leave you behind to spread scandal concerning me with that gabbling tongue in your head?"

"It is well, madame. I say no more. I will go."

"Fetch my jewel-case—the large one."

"Madame takes all her jewels, then?" the maid inquired, moving about the room.

"But naturally. I shall pack them tonight, before I sleep."

"Damnation!"—from Lanyard, beneath his breath. More delay!

"And we leave tomorrow, madame, at what time?"

"It matters not, so we are in Cherbourg by midnight."

Lanyard slipped like a shadow to the floor below, and took shelter behind a jug in the wall.

The maid came down, carrying an electric candle. Its rays illumined from below one of those faces of crude comeliness. She hesitated, looking up toward the room of her mistress, as if lost in thought.

But some secret thought amused

the woman, a shadow deepened in the visible corner of her full-lipped mouth. One fancied something sardonic in that covert smile.

She went on down. Lanyard came out of hiding with a fresh enterprise abroad.

There would be at least another half hour of busy with her jewelry, and the thought presented itself that the library, immediately beneath her room, should be worthy an investigation.

The library was furnished with bulky old Italian pieces of carved oak, but suitable enough with one exception, a ponderous buffet, completely out of place in a room of that character.

But—this drew a frowning stare—there was a key in the lock of the middle door.

"There's such a thing as too much luck," Lanyard commended. "First the service gate and door, and now this, ready to my hand!"

He swung sharply round and searched every shadow in the room with the glare of the portable lamp.

Placing the lamp on the floor and adjusting its hood so that it focused squarely upon the middle section of the buffet, he turned the key and discovered, behind the door, a small safe.

The combination dial was amug with ill-grounded confidence in its own inviolate integrity. Still (Lanyard told it) it could hardly be expected to know, it had yet to be dealt with by the shade of the Lone Wolf.

Amused by the conceit, Lanyard laid hold of the knob with steady, delicate fingertips that had not yet, in spite of years of honorable idleness, forgotten their cunning. The dial whirled, paused, reversed, turned all but imperceptibly. In three minutes he sat back on his heels, grasped the T-handle, turned it, had the satisfaction of hearing the bolts slide back into their sockets, and opened the door wide.

But the racked pigeonholes held nothing to interest him whose aim was the recovery of the Montalais jewels. The safe was, in fact, dedicated simply to the storage of documents.

"Love letters!" Lanyard mused with a grimace of weariness. "And each believed, no doubt, she cared too much to compromise him. Good Lord! what vanity is man's!"

He selected a pigeonhole at hazard, and emptied it of several bundles of letters, all neatly bound with tape or faded ribbon and clearly docketed. His eye was caught by a great name endorsed on the face of one of the packages; and reading what else was written there his brows rose high while his lips shaped a soundless whistle. Liane had kept such documents as gave her power over others. Lanyard wondered if it were possible he held in his hand an instrument to bend the woman to his will.

Suddenly he put out a hand and switched off the light, a gesture quite involuntary, simple reaction to the muffled thump of a chair overturned on the floor above.

Sounds of scuffling followed, as if Liane were dancing to no music with a heavy-footed partner. Then a groan.

His hands moved so rapidly and deftly that, although he seemed to rise without a second's delay, the safe was closed and the combination locked when he did so, the buffet door was shut and its key in his pocket.

This time Lanyard ascended the stairs without heeding what noise he made. Nevertheless his actions were never awkward or ill-timed; his approach was not heard, his arrival on the upper landing was unnoticed.

In an instantaneous pause he looked into the rose-pink room and saw Liane Delorme, in a negligee like a cobweb over a nightdress even more sheer, kneeling and clawing at her throat, round which a heavy silk handkerchief was slowly tightening; her face already purple with strangulation, her eyes bulging from their sockets, her tongue protruding between swollen lips.

A thick knee was planted between her shoulder-blades. The ends of the handkerchief were in the sinewy hands of Albert Dupont.

HER HIGHNESS NOT TO BE LOOKED DOWN UPON BY THE COMMON HERD

Dr. Backus Shows How Empress of Japan is Looked Up To.

BY DR. CLAUDE BACKUS, IN JAPAN.

Yes, we are getting right chummy, the Empress and me. She has been hovering about for quite some time now, and although several rules have been broken by the Yank, she has shown no real displeasure. The first time we met I was not aware that the important event was to occur until the office help in Tokyo commenced to pull the shades down and it was explained that the same was by order of the police as her Highness was to pass. I found for the first time why their Highnesses are high. Just between you and I, it is because they keep everybody in sight lower. Just why the rest of us can't be Your Lownesses and indulged in a title, I can't fathom.

Anyhow, it was O. K. for the lowly herd to gather on the side walk below her level and gaze in open mouthed wonder but poison to be peeping at a higher plane. Twice was business suspended while the elevated lady rode by, once for the Prince.

I fear it must be confessed that several of the younger element took a chance with the police by gluing an orb to minute crevices at the shade sides; possibly the beautiful young lady stenog stood at the court window where she might get a side swipe at the Royalty in gray furs and suit. Anyhow, there was excitement and curiosity.

And they told me how, in the old days, the people dared not peep at the rulers and royal family but must prostrate themselves and remain with eyes shut or glued to the ground when they passed. So times are looking up a bit, you might say and we feel that we are getting on pretty intimate terms, as we observed before.

In fact we have become so chummy that the good dame does not hesitate to impose on my valuable time when ever it suits her convenience or pleasure. When my room was assigned at Kobe it was found to be overlooking the busy harbor and was densely populated when the weary traveler tried to break in. So much so in fact as to be most astonishing. Bell-hop boys, room boys, porter boys and waiter boys were assembled there and all assumed the attitude of urchins caught

ABE MARTIN

It begins to look like short skirts, like high prices are only going to come down in rare and unimportant instances. A spoken performance of "East Lynne, an evening of alternate laughter and tears," "I'll open the regular dramatic season at Melodeon hall on next Monday night by one of the best companies afoot.

In mischief when I entered. But they were game and probably a Yank looked possible under the circumstances for the spokesman jabbered, "The Empress is landing. Ships are dressed. Please sir, just a few minutes to see."

They had the shades down and elits for peeping allowed. Across the Bund were thousands of Blue-jackets, soldiers and officers in full dress, while the harbor was bedecked with flags. In the offing were the ships of the battle fleet and presently along steamed five speedy launches in line, the center one carrying a gorgeous gold and scarlet flag. Elaborate precautions were taken on every hand to protect the frail bit of humanity.

The two leading launches quickly "side-stepped" on reaching the quay and the scarlet flag shot to the landing steps in a jiffy. The Empress was handed out to an officer in wonderful blue and gold, chucked into a maroon limousine which as quickly was off, led by a car in which a general or two were seated and flanked by two more maroon limousines.

And there were the law-breakers in my room, higher than her highness, paying the tax that made the costly display possible and spell bound with admiration or awe, I wonder which?

About the largest crowd that has attended the picture show was present Tuesday evening to see "The Valley of Giants." Next Tuesday evening will be "The Toll Gate," featuring Wm. S. Hart. This is considered a very strong play and it should receive a large crowd.

Remember the band concert again Saturday night. There was a big crowd here last week. Should be larger this week. These concerts by our band are becoming so widely advertised, and are so popular that people are motoring out from Chicago to be present at them.

Last Sunday in the churches of the community came the Gideons as of olden time, with their fine messages of service and inspiration. This is one organization of men who are standing for an open Bible and relying upon its interpretation of sin and the transgression of the moral law, together with the rewards that are forth coming from lives of service. Goodly collections were given to aid their work of placing the Bible into the guest rooms of the hotels of Illinois. Some of the people of the community had their first introduction to this organization and the many words of commendation bespeak the fact that the program was appreciated. A speaker was in each of the churches in the morning, and at the union service in the churches in the morning, and at the union service in the Methodist church, Fred Thomas of Freeport, and Frank Tracy of Chicago, were the speakers. F. J. Blocher and Wilbur Sunday delighted the audience with a cornet duet number and Rev. M. T. McPherson of the Presbyterian church brought a message in song that was thoroughly enjoyed. From a number of different sources since there has come the spoken desire that some sort of a program be worked but whereby the union spirit and fellowship between the churches of the community might be developed. This is just thrown out as a hint to the preachers and church people. Everybody certainly had a good time Sunday night.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled in Franklin Grove gathered today on the camp grounds for the Community Picnic, under weather conditions that were ideal. The horse shoe tournament was played off before dinner, then the crowd gathered about the grounds for the noon meal. The tables were brought out from the dining hall by the community and those who did not get there in time to get a table, spread their dinner on the grass. The Committee furnished lemonade and coffee free to all. Immediately after dinner the races were played, followed by the splendid band concert in the auditorium by the local band. This was a rare treat and was appreciated by the crowd that filled the tabernacle. The community sing was lead by Rev. M. T. McPherson and this feature was a pleasant get-together part of the program. Rev. James O'May of Sycamore was the speaker, and to say that his message dealt with the fundamentals of the present day of life is to speak a plain truth. Dealing with present day inequity in the making and enforcing of the laws of the land, and the luxurious buying of the people of this day, were handled without gloves by this clergyman.

The Standard Bearer Society held their business meeting with Mrs. A. Stewart on Monday evening and the following officers were elected: President, Eva Taubenheid, Vice President, Clara Hunt, Treasurer, Pearl Naylor, Secretary, Eva Blocher, Corresponding Secretary, Melba Phillips, Reporter, Faith Ives.

An item that might be of interest concerning the picnic of today was the various prizes that were awarded. Henry Ling and Benj. Smith, first prize in the horseshoe pitching; 2nd prize, O. O. Miller and LeRoy Miller. Wheel barrow race, Irene Walker; boys' race, Raymond Cook; egg race, Mary Naylor; tug of war, between the town and country, the town won; three-legged race, Lee Gorman and Rolly Tompkins. The ball game between the country and town boys was won by the town boys, 7 to 2.

SUNDAY'S
CHICAGO

HERALD-EXAMINER

The German Kaiser's Own Story.

The long-awaited autobiography of Germany's deposed emperor will be published in The Chicago Daily News, beginning Tuesday, September 26, and continuing in daily installments until completed.

The story is well told, and will command the attention of readers everywhere. Many of the author's opinions and statements are fantastic from the American point of view, but interest in the narrative is increased, rather than lessened, by this fact. Old controversies are sure to be revived, old discussions renewed, by the former Kaiser's defense of Germany and his attacks on the leaders of other nations. For instance, he takes seriously the old canard about a secret treaty against Germany and Austria, in 1897, by the United States, Great Britain and France. This is only one of his declarations that will amaze—and amuse—the American reader.

Beginning with a chapter on Bismarck, the ex-emperor traces history through four decades. In a general way the story is chronological, although in the opening chapters the writer often diverges into events long past, or into the remote future. But from the time he reaches the period immediately preceding the world war the story moves in rapid action, and is in many respects informative notwithstanding the author's prejudice, eccentricity, and, in many instances, his surprising misinformation.

It is a story of absorbing interest to the reader of history and of current events alike, and is bound to create a world of discussion.

In view of the undoubted great demand for this unprecedented publication, orders for The Chicago Daily News should be placed with news-dealers without delay in order to avoid disappointment. Or, send one dollar to The Chicago Daily News, 15 North Wells street, Chicago; and receive the paper, postage prepaid for two months.

NO DEFENSE
 BY GILBERT PARKER
 CAUTION OF "THE SEATS OF THE MIGHTY" "THE RIGHT OF WAY"

ANYONE who has read the fascinating romances by Parker knows what it is to find him at his strongest, as in this tale. The setting is Ireland, England, the Atlantic Ocean and the West Indies, with some connections which carry it to the shores of America, during the stirring days of the French Revolution. The story has a dramatic sweep of action that is irresistible. The author with penetrating insight and great artistry, has contrasted the Irish and English temperaments; as a result, many deft and tragically humorous touches enliven the tale. In all respects a very unusual romance, we have selected it for serial reproduction in these columns. Regular readers are requested to watch for it and others should subscribe now in order not to miss the first installment.

Watch next Monday's issue, Sept. 25, for the opening chapters, and each succeeding Monday thereafter until the final, the twenty-second chapter, appears.

"It Must Have Been Dead at Least 6 Months But Didn't Smell."

"Saw a big rat in our cellar last fall," writes Mrs. Joanny, "and bought a 35c cake of RAT-SNAP, broke it up into small pieces. Last week while moving we came across the dead rat. Must have been dead six months; didn't smell. RAT-SNAP is wonderful." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Public Drug & Book Co. and E. N. Howell Hardware Co.—Adv.
